

A compliance team in Amman cut off my climate data pitch to ask one thing: does this hit our green lending quota before the deadline?

Sustainability teams write the narrative. They do not sign the purchase order.

Compliance teams own the quota.
Missing it triggers a regulatory penalty, not a bad headline.

Across Jordan, Saudi Arabia, and Cambodia, banks buy climate data because non-compliance cost is priced and dated. Goodwill is not.

Even advisory work linking this pipeline to Korean investors is pushed by a regulatory deadline, not pulled by an impact thesis.
