

A bank compliance team in Amman cut off my climate data pitch halfway through, and one question exposed how frontier capital actually moves.

Sustainability teams write the narrative. They never sign the purchase order.

Compliance teams own the quota.
Missing it triggers a regulatory penalty, not just a bad headline.

Local banks buy climate data because non compliance costs are priced and dated. Goodwill is not.

Even advisory work linking this data to Korean investors is pushed by a regulatory deadline, not an impact thesis.

Stop reading ESG pitch decks to size demand. Read the mandate, and find out who owns the quota.
